RISK FACTORS

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. Investors should not invest any funds unless they can afford to lose the entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

> Our founder serves as both the Company's manager and the investors' Lead Investor. Our founder will act as the Lead Investor for the SPV and will hold the proxy on any matter that requires the SPV's vote or consent. Because the founder also controls the Company, the founder's interests as the Company's operator may conflict with investors' interests, and there is no independent representative to act on investors' behalf.

> An investment in Pet Sky Nook securities is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk. You should invest only if you can afford to lose your entire investment. The securities are subject to a one-year minimum holding period under federal securities laws, during which you cannot sell or transfer them. Even after the holding period expires, there is no public market for these securities and none is expected to develop. The securities have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 or state securities laws, and they cannot be sold or transferred except in very limited circumstances and only if an exemption from registration is available. You should assume that you will not be able to liquidate your investment for the foreseeable future and may never be able to sell your securities. The illiquid nature of this investment means you will be unable to access your invested capital even if you experience financial hardship or if the company's prospects deteriorate.

> WULA LLC (doing business as Pet Sky Nook) was organized in March 2025 and has not yet launched commercial sales of its window-mounted pet balcony product. We are currently in a pre-launch waitlist phase with no proven market traction, revenue history, or demonstrated customer acceptance of our product. Our business model, pricing strategy, and operational capabilities remain untested in the marketplace. The lack of operating history means investors have very limited information upon which to evaluate our ability to successfully manufacture, market, distribute, and sell our product, manage customer relationships, or achieve profitability. There is substantial risk that our product may not achieve market acceptance or that our business model may prove unviable, in which case investors could lose their entire investment.

> Investors will hold nonvoting Preferred Units with a non-participating liquidation preference. The Preferred Units offered in this offering have no voting rights. Our founder holds all of the Company's Common Units and all voting control, and can make decisions without the approval of Preferred Unit holders, including amending our Operating Agreement, issuing additional units that may rank senior to the Preferred Units, selling the Company, or changing our business. This is subject only to the limited protective rights described in our Operating Agreement. The Preferred Units carry a 1x liquidation preference equal to the price actually paid ($0.75 or $1.00 per unit), but the preference is non-participating. In a sale or liquidation, each Preferred Unit receives the greater of its purchase price or its pro rata share as if all units were a single class, but not both. If the proceeds of a sale or liquidation are less than the total purchase price of the Preferred Units, investors will share what is available pro rata and may lose part or all of their investment. The Preferred Units carry no dividends, interest, redemption rights or guaranteed return, and distributions will be made only if and when the Manager decides.

> We rely primarily on trade secrets, proprietary know-how, and the practical barriers to copying our product design to protect our competitive position. We have filed a provisional patent application covering our window-mounted pet balcony design. A provisional application does not grant patent rights. It expires after 12 months unless we file a non-provisional application, and there is no assurance that a patent will be issued or that any issued patent would prevent competitors from making similar products. The founder has assigned the provisional patent application to the Company, and any patent issued from it will be owned by the Company.

> Pet Sky Nook currently has only one employee, who serves as the founder and is responsible for all aspects of our business operations

Pet Sky Nook currently has only one employee, who serves as the founder and is responsible for all aspects of our business operations, including product development, manufacturing coordination, marketing, sales, financial management, and strategic planning. We do not have a management team, advisory board, or other personnel to provide continuity if our founder becomes unavailable due to illness, injury, or other circumstances. We do not maintain key person life insurance. The loss of our founder's services, even temporarily, would likely result in significant disruption to our operations and could prevent us from executing our business plan, fulfilling customer orders, or continuing operations altogether. Our extreme dependence on a single individual presents a material risk to investors.

Our window-mounted pet balcony is designed to support pets and must be installed in elevated window openings, creating inherent safety risks. Product failures, improper installation, manufacturing defects, or design flaws could result in the enclosure detaching from the window, collapsing, or otherwise failing, potentially causing injury or death to pets, injury to people below, or property damage. We face the risk of product liability claims, personal injury lawsuits, and property damage claims that could result in substantial legal costs, damages, and reputational harm. While we plan to conduct safety and load testing, there can be no assurance that such testing will identify all potential failure modes or that our product will perform safely under all real-world conditions. We may not have adequate insurance coverage to protect against such claims, and a single serious incident could result in financial liabilities that exceed our resources and destroy our business.

The installation of our window-mounted balcony enclosure may be subject to local building codes, zoning regulations, and structural requirements that vary by jurisdiction. Additionally, many of our target customers are renters or residents of condominiums, co-ops, or properties governed by homeowners associations, all of which may prohibit or restrict exterior modifications to buildings, including window-mounted structures. Landlords may refuse to permit installation due to concerns about building aesthetics, structural integrity, or liability. Even though our product is designed to install without drilling into exterior walls, property owners and governing bodies may still classify it as an unauthorized exterior modification. If a significant portion of our target market is unable to obtain permission to install our product, our sales potential would be materially reduced. We have not conducted comprehensive research into the prevalence of such restrictions across different markets and property types.

We rely on a single manufacturing partner located in China to produce our window-mounted pet balcony enclosures. This dependence creates multiple risks, including manufacturing delays, quality control issues, capacity constraints, and the potential loss of our manufacturer relationship. We have limited control over our manufacturer's operations, financial stability, labor practices, or ability to meet our specifications and delivery schedules. Disruptions in international shipping, port congestion, customs delays, or logistics challenges could prevent us from receiving inventory in a timely manner. We do not have alternative manufacturing arrangements in place, and identifying and qualifying a new manufacturer would require significant time and resources. Any significant disruption in our supply chain could result in our inability to fulfill customer orders, damage to our reputation, and loss of revenue during critical periods such as following our planned trade show debut.

A substantial portion of the funds raised in this offering will be used to prepare for and attend the Global Pet Expo, where we plan to meet retailers, distributors, and buyers. Our business strategy assumes that this trade show will generate wholesale orders, distribution partnerships, and retail relationships that are critical to scaling our business beyond direct-to-consumer sales. However, there is no assurance that our product will generate interest from trade show attendees, that we will successfully secure retail or distribution partnerships, or that any relationships formed will result in meaningful purchase orders. The pet products industry is highly competitive, and established brands with greater resources and market presence will also be exhibiting. If we fail to generate significant interest or partnerships from this trade show, we may not have sufficient resources or alternative channels to achieve the sales volume necessary to sustain our business.

Pet Sky Nook has not generated any revenue to date and is not currently profitable. We have incurred losses since inception and expect to continue incurring losses as we complete product development, manufacture initial inventory, conduct safety testing, attend trade shows, and build our marketing and distribution capabilities. Even after we begin generating revenue, we expect to incur significant ongoing costs related to manufacturing, inventory management, marketing, customer support, and general operations. There is no assurance that we will ever generate sufficient revenue to cover our expenses or achieve profitability. Our ability to achieve profitability depends on numerous factors, many of which are beyond our control, including market acceptance of our product, our ability to scale production efficiently, competitive pricing pressures, and our ability to manage costs. If we are unable to achieve and sustain profitability, investors may lose their entire investment.

The funds raised in this offering are intended to cover specific near-term objectives including trade show participation and an initial production run. However, we will require substantial additional capital to scale our manufacturing, build inventory, expand our marketing efforts, hire employees, establish distribution channels, and support ongoing operations. We have very limited cash reserves and no committed sources of additional funding. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain additional financing on acceptable terms, or at all. Our ability to raise additional capital may be limited by market conditions, investor appetite for early-stage companies, our financial performance, and other factors beyond our control. If we are unable to obtain sufficient additional funding, we may be forced to delay or abandon our growth plans, reduce or cease operations, or seek a sale of the company under unfavorable terms. Any future equity financing would result in dilution to existing investors.

The pet products industry is highly competitive and includes numerous well-established companies with substantially greater financial resources, brand recognition, manufacturing capabilities, distribution networks, and marketing budgets than Pet Sky Nook. We will compete not only with other pet furniture and enclosure manufacturers but also with simpler and less expensive alternatives such as window perches, cat trees, outdoor catios, and traditional pet furniture. Many competitors have existing relationships with major retailers and distributors that may be difficult for us to penetrate as a new entrant. Established competitors may be able to respond to market demands more quickly, offer lower prices due to economies of scale, or introduce competing products that render our offering less attractive. Additionally, larger companies could develop similar window-mounted enclosures and leverage their existing market presence to capture market share. Our inability to compete effectively could prevent us from achieving meaningful market penetration and revenue growth.

While we have established a pre-launch waitlist, we have not yet demonstrated that a substantial market exists for our window-mounted pet balcony at our intended price point. Consumer willingness to purchase our product will depend on numerous factors including perceived value, price relative to alternatives, ease of installation, aesthetic appeal, confidence in product safety, and suitability for their specific window configurations and pet types. Our product has a weight limit that excludes larger dogs, which may significantly reduce our addressable market. Potential customers may be deterred by concerns about installation complexity, the appearance of the product on their building exterior, or uncertainty about whether their windows are compatible. Seasonal factors may also affect demand, with potential concentration of sales in certain months and reduced interest during colder seasons. If market demand proves to be substantially lower than we anticipate, we may be unable to achieve sufficient sales volume to sustain our business.

Our products are manufactured in China and must be imported into the United States, subjecting us to import duties, tariffs, customs regulations, and international trade policies. Changes in trade relations between the United States and China, including the imposition of additional tariffs or trade restrictions, could significantly increase our product costs and reduce our profit margins or force us to increase prices, potentially making our product less competitive. We have limited ability to predict or control changes in trade policy, and we may not be able to pass increased costs on to customers. Currency exchange rate fluctuations could also affect our manufacturing costs. Additionally, we are subject to customs compliance requirements, and any failure to comply with import regulations could result in delays, fines, seizure of goods, or other penalties. Our dependence on international manufacturing and shipping exposes us to risks that domestic manufacturers would not face.

As a consumer product intended for use with pets in residential settings, our window-mounted balcony enclosure may be subject to oversight by the Consumer Product Safety Commission and must comply with applicable federal and state consumer product safety laws and regulations. While we plan to conduct safety and load testing, there can be no assurance that our product will meet all applicable safety standards or that regulatory authorities will not determine that our product presents safety hazards requiring corrective action. If our product is found to be defective or unsafe, we could be required to conduct a costly recall, modify our product design, or cease sales entirely. We could also face enforcement actions, fines, or penalties from regulatory authorities. Changes in consumer product safety regulations could require us to modify our product or undertake additional testing and certification, increasing our costs and potentially delaying our ability to bring products to market.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The Company intends to use the net proceeds of this offering for working capital and general corporate purposes, which includes the specific items listed in Item 10 below. While the Company expects to use the net proceeds from the Offering in the manner described above, it cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of the net proceeds that it will receive from this Offering. Accordingly, the Company will have broad discretion in using these proceeds.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

If we raise: $10,000

Use of Proceeds: If only the minimum target amount is raised, Pet Sky Nook expects to use the proceeds to bring our current prototype to the Global Pet Expo, approximately as follows: 50% Global Pet Expo booth and APPA membership, 20% finishing the current prototype and shipping it to the Expo, 15% travel and lodging for the Expo, 7.1% booth display and marketing materials, and 7.9% Wefunder fee and related offering expenses. At this amount, the Company does not expect to fund a production run, safety testing, or other operations. Management may adjust among these categories based on actual costs.

If we raise: $123,000

Use of Proceeds: If the maximum offering amount is raised, including any oversubscriptions, Pet Sky Nook expects to use proceeds approximately as follows: 43% First production run and import costs, 17% Freight, logistics, and customs, 15% Global Pet Expo booth and travel, 8% Safety testing and marketing materials, 9.1% Legal, accounting, and reserve, and 7.9% Wefunder fee and related offering expenses. Management expects to apply oversubscription proceeds toward the first production run but may reallocate among categories as actual costs and circumstances require.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Investment in the Co-Issuer. Investors will make their investments by investing in interests issued by one or more co-issuers, each of which is a special purpose vehicle ("SPV"). The SPV will invest all amounts it receives from investors in securities issued by the Company. Interests issued to investors by the SPV will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of the SPV. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "Portfolio" page on the Wefunder platform. All references in this Form C to an Investor's investment in the Company (or similar phrases) should be interpreted to include investments in a SPV.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline.

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be canceled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

Ownership and Capital Structure

THE OFFERING

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

Priced Round: $1,000,000.00 pre-money valuation

See exact security attached as Appendix B, Investor Contracts

WULA LLC is offering up to 139,666 shares of units, at a price per share of $1.00.

Investors in the first $50,000.00 of the offering will receive units at a price per share of $0.75, and a pre-money valuation of $750,000.00

The campaign maximum is $123,000.00 and the campaign minimum is $10,000.00.

Securities Issued by the SPV

Instead of issuing its securities directly to investors, the Company has decided to issue its securities to the SPV, which will then issue interests in the SPV to investors. The SPV is formed concurrently with the filing of the Form C. Given this, the SPV does not have any financials to report. The SPV is managed by Wefunder Admin, LLC and is a co-issuer with the Company of the securities being offered in this offering. The Company's use of the SPV is intended to allow investors in the SPV to achieve the same economic exposure, voting power, and ability to assert State and Federal law rights, and receive the same disclosures, as if they had invested directly in the Company. While the Issuer may be required to pay an annual administrative fee for the maintenance of the SPV, investors should note the Company's use of the SPV will not result in any additional fees being charged to investors.

The SPV has been organized and will be operated for the sole purpose of directly acquiring, holding and disposing of the Company's securities, will not borrow money and will use all of the proceeds from the sale of its securities solely to purchase a single class of securities of the Company. As a result, an investor investing in the Company through the SPV will have the same relationship to the Company's securities, in terms of number, denomination, type and rights, as if the investor invested directly in the Company.

Voting Rights

If the securities offered by the Company and those offered by the SPV have voting rights, those voting rights may be exercised by the investor or his or her proxy. The applicable proxy is the Lead Investor, if the Proxy (described below) is in effect.

Proxy to the Lead Investor

The SPV securities have voting rights. With respect to those voting rights, the investor and his, her, or its transferees or assignees (collectively, the "Investor"), through a power of attorney granted by Investor in the Investor Agreement, has appointed or will appoint the Lead Investor as the Investor's true and lawful proxy and attorney (the "Proxy") with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, on behalf of the Investor to: (i) vote all securities related to the Company purchased in an offering hosted by Wefunder Portal, and (ii) execute, in connection with such voting power, any instrument or document that the Lead Investor determines is necessary and appropriate in the exercise of his or her authority. Such Proxy will be irrevocable by the Investor unless and until a successor lead investor ("Replacement Lead Investor") takes the place of the Lead Investor. Upon notice that a Replacement Lead Investor has taken the place of the Lead Investor, the Investor will have five (5) calendar days to revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked within the 5-day time period, it shall remain in effect.

Restriction on Transferability

The SPV securities are subject to restrictions on transfer, as set forth in the Subscription Agreement and the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Wefunder SPV, LLC, and may not be transferred without the prior approval of the Company, on behalf of the SPV.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

- ☐ Yes
- ☑ No

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

See the above description of the Proxy to the Lead Investor.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and may be amended only by a writing executed by all parties.

Pursuant to authorization in the Investor Agreement between each Investor and Wefunder Portal, Wefunder Portal is authorized to take the following actions with respect to the investment contract between the Company and an investor:

A. Wefunder Portal may amend the terms of an investment contract, provided that the amended terms are more favorable to the investor than the original terms; and

B. Wefunder Portal may reduce the amount of an investor's investment if the reason for the reduction is that the Company's offering is oversubscribed.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Being Offered:

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

1. to the issuer;
2. to an accredited investor;
3. as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
4. to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

NOTE: The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer's Securities

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Authorized	Outstanding	Voting rights

Preferred Units	140000	0	☐
Common Units	1000000	1000000	☑

Class of Security	Total Pool
Warrants	None
Options	None

Describe any other rights:

Common Units have voting rights. Preferred Units have 1x non-participating liquidation preference and no voting rights.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering).

These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.

To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the unitholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the unitholders may change the terms of the Operating Agreement for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The unitholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability.In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional units, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our common units that take into account factors such as the following:

- unrelated third party valuations of our common units;
- the price at which we sell other securities, such as convertible debt or preferred units, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of our those securities relative to those of our common units;
- our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
- current business conditions and projections;
- the lack of marketability of our common units;
- the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
- the introduction of new products;
- the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
- our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
- the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
- industry trends and competitive environment;
- trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
- overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
- the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Management, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Management of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from unitholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for unitholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company. If the Management of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its unitholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

None.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 24: name the creditor, amount owed, interest rate, maturity date, and any other material terms.

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

Offering date	Exemption	Security type	Amount sold	Use of proceeds
No exempt offerings.

26. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12- month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

1. any director or officer of the issuer;
2. any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;
3. if the issuer was incorporated or organized within the past three years, any promoter of the issuer;
4. or any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

- [ ] Yes
- [x] No

For each transaction specify the person, relationship to issuer, nature of interest in transaction, and amount of interest.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

Yes

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview of the Business and Financial Condition

PetSkyNook manufactures and sells a window-mounted balcony enclosure that gives indoor pets safe outdoor access. The product installs directly into window openings without drilling into exterior walls, providing a secure mesh-enclosed space for pets to enjoy fresh air and sunlight.

The Company is pre-revenue and has not yet commenced commercial operations. We currently have no cash on hand and will depend on the proceeds of this offering to fund our planned operations.

As of October 22, 2026, we did not have any cash or cash equivalents on hand.

Our ability to continue operations is dependent on managing our expenses and, if necessary, obtaining additional financing.

This discussion should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and related notes included in this offering statement.

Business and Operating Uncertainty

Our business operates in an environment subject to various risks, uncertainties, and changing conditions, which makes it difficult to evaluate our business, financial condition, and prospects and may limit the comparability of our results of operations from period to period.

Financial Condition

As of December 31, 2025, our total assets were $0 and our current and non-current liabilities, as reflected in available financial statement fields, were $0.

Our financial statements reflect an early-stage company with limited operating history. Investors should not place undue reliance on historical financial information given the company's limited operating history and the likelihood that future results will differ from historical results.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of December 31, 2025, we did not have any cash or cash equivalents on hand.

Based on our current operations, we are operating at a net loss, with monthly net loss of approximately $500.

Our monthly net cash burn or profit may vary significantly from month to month due to the timing of receipts and expenditures and other short-term factors. As a result, period-to-period comparisons may not be meaningful.

The Company is pre-revenue and has not yet commenced commercial operations. We currently have no cash on hand and will depend on the proceeds of this offering to fund our planned operations.

Liquidity Assumptions

Our assessment of our liquidity and ability to fund operations is not a projection and is based on current assumptions regarding operating expenses, cash requirements, and capital needs. These assumptions may change, and actual results may differ materially due to changes in operating conditions, timing of receipts and payments, and other factors.

Dependence on Additional Financing

There can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms, or at all. If we are unable to raise additional capital when needed, we may be required to materially reduce or suspend operations.

Indebtedness and Capital Structure

As of the date of this offering statement, we did not have any outstanding indebtedness.

(For the avoidance of doubt, SAFEs are not treated as indebtedness.)

We have not conducted any exempt offerings or raised capital in the past three years. The company has operated off $7,000 in founder contributions.

Known Trends, Events, and Uncertainties

Management is not currently aware of any known trends, events, or uncertainties that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations over the next 12 months.

The absence of a discussion of any particular trend, event, or uncertainty should not be interpreted to mean that such matters do not exist; rather, it reflects management's judgment based on information currently available.

Changes Since the Date of the Financial Statements

There have been no material changes in our operations or financial condition since the date of the financial statements included in this offering.

Impact of This Offering

The proceeds from this offering are expected to be used to build out our working prototype and bring it to conferences/expos. The timing and extent of our use of proceeds will depend on the amount of proceeds raised and future operating conditions. Additional detail regarding our planned use of proceeds is provided in Item 10 of this Form C.

There can be no assurance that the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to fund our operations or achieve our business objectives.

Certain information relevant to understanding our financial condition and liquidity is presented elsewhere in this offering statement, including in the financial statements, related notes, and the sections describing indebtedness and prior financings.

Forward-Looking Statements

This discussion contains forward-looking statements that are based on management's current expectations and assumptions. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these statements.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include:

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and

- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Lead Investor. As described above, each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement will grant a power of attorney to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor to the Lead Investor (the "Proxy"). The Proxy is irrevocable unless and until a Successor Lead Investor takes the place of the Lead Investor, in which case, the Investor has a five (5) calendar day period to revoke the Proxy. Pursuant to the Proxy, the Lead Investor or his or her successor will make voting decisions and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf.

The Lead Investor is an individual that is chosen to act in the role of Lead Investor on behalf of Investors that have a Proxy in effect. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc. and the identity of the initial Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the securities related to the Company.

The Lead Investor can quit at any time or can be removed by Wefunder Inc. for cause or pursuant to a vote of investors as detailed in the Lead Investor Agreement. In the event the Lead Investor quits or is removed, the Company will choose a Successor Lead Investor who must be approved by Wefunder Inc. The identity of the Successor Lead Investor will be disclosed to Investors, and those that have a Proxy in effect can choose to either leave such Proxy in place or revoke such Proxy during a 5-day period beginning with notice of the replacement of the Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor will not receive any compensation for his or her services to the SPV. The Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a fund ("Fund") for accredited investors for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such circumstances, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that Fund (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role.

Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles with respect to the Company's offerings and may potentially be compensated for some of its services, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of securities issued by or related to the Company. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of Investors. It is, however, possible that in some limited circumstances the Lead Investor's interests could diverge from the interests of Investors, as discussed in section 8 above.

Investors that wish to purchase securities related to the Company through Wefunder Portal must agree to give the Proxy described above to the Lead Investor, provided that if the Lead Investor is replaced, the Investor will have a 5-day period during which he or she may revoke the Proxy. If the Proxy is not revoked during this 5-day period, it will remain in effect.

Tax Filings. In order to complete necessary tax filings, the SPV is required to include information about each investor who holds an interest in the SPV, including each investor's taxpayer identification number ("TIN") (e.g., social security number or employer identification number). To the extent they have not already done so, each investor will be required to provide their TIN within the earlier of (i) two (2) years of making their investment or (ii) twenty (20) days prior to the date of any distribution from the SPV. If an investor does not provide their TIN within this time, the SPV reserves the right to withhold from any proceeds otherwise payable to the Investor an amount necessary for the SPV to satisfy its tax withholding obligations as well as the SPV's reasonable estimation of any penalties that may be charged by the IRS or other relevant authority as a result of the investor's failure to provide their TIN. If applicable, the Company may also be required to pay Wefunder certain fees for the preparation of tax filings. Such fees and the Company's obligation to deliver required tax documents are further specified in the related Tax Services Agreement ("TSA").

Investors should carefully review the terms of the SPV Subscription Agreement for additional information about tax filings.

Potential Dissolution of the SPV. The Company has agreed that it will pay an administrative fee and / or certain tax fees to Wefunder, in addition to delivering required tax information in the manner prescribed by the TSA, where applicable. Failure to pay such fees or provide Wefunder with required tax information could result in the dissolution of the SPV (an "SPV Dissolution Event"). Subsequent to an SPV Dissolution Event, the securities held by the SPV would be distributed directly and proportionally to the individual investors. This could create administrative complexities, as investors would need to manage the securities themselves rather than having them held and administered by the SPV. Additionally, the unplanned distribution of securities may not align with investors' intended investment strategy or asset allocation.

Upon an SPV Dissolution Event, the Investor hereby consents to and agrees to accept direct assignment of the SPV's rights and obligations under any investment agreements between the SPV and the Company that is located in the Form C or C/A offering materials. The Investor acknowledges they will be bound by all terms and conditions of such agreements as if they were an original party thereto.

ONGOING REPORTING

120 days after the end of each fiscal year covered by the report.

33. Once posted, the annual report may be found on the issuer's website at:

https://www.petskynook.com/invest

The issuer must continue to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements until:

1. the issuer is required to file reports under Exchange Act Sections 13(a) or 15(d);
2. the issuer has filed at least one annual report and has fewer than 300 holders of record;
3. the issuer has filed at least three annual reports and has total assets that do not exceed $10 million; or
4. the issuer or another party purchases or repurchases all of the securities issued pursuant to Section 4(a)(6), including any payment in full of debt securities or any complete redemption of redeemable securities; or the issuer liquidates or dissolves in accordance with state law.
